The cause of this influx of fair women into the police court was a raid that took place in the Tenderlein Precinct early this morn-

Some one had complained against Gus Heckler's hotel, which he calls "Bohemia." at 1257 Broadway, as being a disorderly lace, and Capt. Reilly determined to raid it. He sent his men around two or three days go and secured the necessary evidence. It was nearly 1 o'clock when the Captain, with Detectives Kemp and Brett and eight these poverty-stricken and hungry unfortumen, left the station-house. They split into
